As cleverly described in one of the book's early paragraphs, gone are the days when going green was synonymous with rusticity. And this is exactly what Eco Chic is all about. Bringing forward the collective green movement of internationally renowned architects, designers, chefs, and hoteliers, Eco Chic, one of the latest books that come out from the popular Chic Collection (www.thechiccollection.com) published by Editions

Didier Millet, exposes a dynamic lifestyle that is both environmentally friendly and stylish to the max.

We're talking about a bundle of interesting, useful information, which covers the most fabulous eco conscious shops, brands, restaurants, hotels, spas, and other establishments from all corners of the world. Simply said, Eco Chic sparks the idea of a new luxury in travelling, where a holistic experience is treated as the ideal goal for travellers in search of relaxation, fulfilment, discovery, adventure, and most of all, a deep connection with the planet and its people. Browse through the inspiring pages of Eco Chic and be an eco-conscious green traveller with style. Eco Chic is now available at all leading bookstores in Jakarta.
